Notes to the Financial Statements

1. General Information

HID Fund is a private investment vehicle incorporated under the laws of Hong Kong as a closed-end structure. The Fund focuses on early-stage technologies, dual-use sectors, and asymmetrical market opportunities. Its primary objective is long-term capital growth through exposure to high-impact private and structured markets.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as adopted in Hong Kong and the provisions of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance (Cap. 622).

The Fund applies consolidation and fair value principles in accounting for its investment assets. Key estimates and judgments are made in assessing the valuation of non-listed investments, contingent positions, and revenue recognition. Management continuously reviews these estimates based on available internal and external data.

3. Principles of Consolidation and Use of Estimates

The consolidated financial statements include the financial position and operating results of HID Fund and related investment structures. Transactions with co-investment vehicles, managed mandates, and strategic affiliates are conducted in line with predetermined investment agreements. HID Fund does not exercise discretionary authority beyond the stated mandates of these vehicles.

No changes were made to HID Fund's significant accounting policies for the period ending June 30, 2025.

Preparation of these financial statements requires the use of estimates in valuing private investments, contingent assets, and determining the timing and allocation of income. These estimates are based on reasonable assumptions at the reporting date and may be revised as new information becomes available.

Where applicable, HID Fund applies professional judgment to determine whether a controlling financial interest exists in co-managed entities and whether consolidation is required under applicable standards.

The management confirms that all estimates and assumptions used as of July 20, 2025, are reasonable and supported by internal documentation and relevant market inputs. Any changes to these assumptions will be reflected in subsequent reporting periods in accordance with IFRS requirements.

This financial report presents the consolidated financial condition and performance of HID Fund for the second quarter of 2025, in compliance with the reporting standards and governance requirements applicable in Hong Kong.

HID Fund continues to operate in alignment with its core investment mandate, maintaining transparency, portfolio resilience, and strict internal control processes.
